RE: Mathematica Unlimited Site License Program

Dear Naomi Yor:

Thank you for your interest in renewing your Mathematica Unlimited Site License ("Program") between Wolfram Research, Inc. ("WRI") and Holon Institute of Technology ("Institution"). This letter verifies that WRI is the sole manufacturer of Mathematica software and the sole source of copies of Mathematica, and Premier Service under the Mathematica Unlimited Site License Program. Further we attest that Engineering Software Lab Ltd is the sole supplier for Holon Institute of Technology.

Please feel free to contact me if you have any questions or concerns.

Sincerely,

Craig Bauling

Per your request, we have prepared the following price quotation for your inclusion into the ITEM Erasmus+ Capacity Building Consortium grant submission.

This quote covers a licensing scheme at each of the eight non-EU Universities included in this consortium grant that allows for the efficient roll-out of leading edge course materials. The Universities are: Holon Institute of Technology (HIT, Israel), Hadassah Academic College (HAC, Israel), National University of Uzbekistan (NUUZ, Uzbekistan), Tashkent University of Information Technologies (TUIT, Uzbekistan), Karshi Engineering - Economic Institution (Uzbekistan), University of Mitrovica "isa Boletini" (UoM, Kosovo), N. Sh. Kolegji Aga Xhite (NSK, Kosovo), and University of Prishtina "Hasan Prishtina" (UoP, Kosovo).

Each of the non-EU members of the consortium will receive 3 Mathematica Desktop licenses with Premier Service Plus for course development activities and a license pool of 10 floating licenses with Premier Service Plus for casual developers as well as acting as a test bed for student deployment. Other free of charge benefits include:

- Free additional Mathematica license for use at home
- Free license for Wolfram Workbench (Advanced development platform)
- Free license for Wolfram webMathematica Amateur (web publishing platform)
- Free license for Wolfram light Grid manager (distributed network computation manager)

Quantity	Quoted Line Item	Ext. Price	Tax
